Rita is the senior medical photographer and educational media specialist at the University of Toronto, Faculty of Dentistry, where she provides photographic services for teaching purposes and instructs staff and students in dental photography and presentation techniques. She has given over 400 lectures and workshops on dental photography at the University and the dental community at national and international meetings.

Rita has become recognized as a leading authority on equipment selection for clinical photography and has trained many offices in this technology, gaining invaluable insight for the marketing aspect of this visual tool. She is an effective trainer, committed to share her extensive knowledge and practical experience, consistently receiving highest evaluations for her practical know-how.

Lets Switch to Digital Photography!

Half Day Lecture 9:00 AM - 12:00 Noon – Unlimited Participation
Half Day Workshop 1:00 pm - 5:00 pm - Limited participation: 18

Are you confused by the many functions of a digital camera and want to use digital photographs to prepare an effective communication tool for your documentation and lecture material? This workshop will take the mystery out of this new and evolving technology and show you how to incorporate it effectively to make it a vital educational tool for your lecture presentations and patient documentation the fastest and simplest way. You can be a beginner or an advanced photographer and benefit from the many professional tips and techniques taught at this learning lab.

Morning Lecture:

Choosing the right camera for your Specialty:
How much money do you have to spend and how many pixels do you need.
Get the user-friendly cameras, mirrors and retractors and learn how to use them for effortless photography.
Downloading Images from your camera to the computer:
Setting up a filing system with an inexpensive image management program.
Renaming, rotating, cropping and resizing images in batches.

Had enough of sitting and listening to everyone talking about Digital? Do you want to take the hot new technology tool out for a test drive?

Join us for a half day Hands-on learning lab.

Prerequisite: Participants must have attended the morning lecture.
Hands-On Techniques for clinical photography
Step by step instruction to familiarize yourself with the digital camera and set up for standardized clinical views
Take excellent digital pictures using mirrors and retractors without effort and show off your great work
Use the digital camera as a copying tool
Capture X-rays, slides and prints instead of scanning for fast and efficient digital capture.
Learn how to set up for product photography (instrument set up, clinic procedures, etc.) for staff or student manuals.
